U.S. AIR FORCE

U.S. AIR FORCE

Training Objective

- Familiarize source selection teams with debriefing requirements and advice
- Brief introduction to potential consequences of a poor debriefing, i.e. protests
- Provide a sample format for debriefings

U.S. AIR FORCE

Training Outline

- Purpose and Specifics
- Preaward Debriefings
- Postaward Debriefings
- Documentation
- Protest Information
- Example Format for a Debriefing

U.S. AIR FORCE

Purpose of Debriefing

- 1. To explain the rationale for the decision
 - To indicate why an offeror lost and why someone else won
- 2. To instill confidence the offeror was treated fairly
- 3. To assure offeror that proposals were evaluated in accordance with RFP, laws, and regulations
- 4. To identify proposal short-comings so offeror can better prepare in future
 - Both content as well as administrative issues
- 5. To reduce misunderstandings and protests
- 6. To provide opportunity for feedback

U.S. AIR FORCE

Purpose of Debriefing

What it is NOT:

- 1. Page by page analysis of proposal
- 2. Point by point comparison of proposals
- 3. Debate or defense of SSA's decision

U.S. AIR FORCE

When to Conduct Debriefing

Government must conduct if:

- 1. Offeror makes written request
- 2. Request is received within 3 days after offeror received notice of exclusion from competition, or notice of contract award
 - Ex: Contractor received notice Tuesday
 - Request must be received by COB Friday
- 3. Debriefing should be conducted within 5 days
- 4. Protest to GAO within 5 days of the debriefing date offered, or 10 days after award (whichever is later) is entitled to automatic suspension of contract performance

Scheduling Debriefing

U.S. AIR FORCE

1. Inform offeror of scheduled date in writing with immediate acknowledgment requested

- Schedule as early as possible since a protest filed within 5 days of debriefing can stop contract performance

2. If offeror unable to attend scheduled date and requests later date, the deadlines for filing a protest are not automatically extended.

- Offeror should acknowledge in writing it was offered on earlier date, but requested a later date

3. If offeror submits untimely request for debriefing, CO should inform offeror request is untimely, but conduct debriefing if feasible

- Does not automatically extend deadlines for filing protests

U.S. AIR FORCE

Where / How to Debrief

- 1. CO selects suitable location and method
- 2. May be in writing, by telephone or VTC, or face-to-face
- 3. Debrief at contractor's facility may be considered
 - Allows a higher degree of industry participation
 - More likely to brief industry decision makers, as opposed to only the emotionally-invested proposal team
 - May reduce likelihood of protest due to misunderstanding
- 4. Needs of offeror should be afforded due consideration but CO makes final decision

U.S. AIR FORCE

Who Attends

- 1. CO chairs and either CO or SSET chairperson briefs
- 2. Select debriefing attendees before award is announced
 - e.g., JAG, CO, SSET Chief, Evaluation Team Leads
- 3. Offeror should identify attendees and position prior to debrief
- 4. Debriefing should be outlined, coordinated by JAG, and followed during debriefing

U.S. AIR FORCE

Debriefing

- 1. Introduce attendees
- 2. Explain purpose
- 3. Explain ground rules
- 4. Offerors may submit questions prior to debriefing
- 5. Offerors may ask questions during debriefing

Preaward Debriefing

U.S. AIR FORCE

- 1. At offeror's request, may be delayed until after award
- 2. CO may delay until after award if there are compelling reasons (i.e. if it is not in the best interests of the Gov't)
- 3. If delayed until after award, use Post-Award guidelines
- 4. If timely request not filed, debriefing not required
- 5. Only one debriefing per offeror (either a pre award debriefing or a post award debriefing)
- 6. Provide description of strengths, deficiencies, uncertainties, weaknesses and past performance information for that offeror
- 7. Summary of rationale for eliminating that offeror from competition
- 8. Reasonable responses to relevant questions about whether source selection procedures in the solicitation were followed in eliminating the offeror from competition
